

The LECCY (Liverpool Energy Community Company) is offering house builders and housing providers a fast and effective connection solution for gas and electricity for their new builds and renovations, making it one less thing for you to worry about.

The LECCY, brought to you by the Mayor of Liverpool, offers low cost gas and electricity to the people of Liverpool and the wider North West. Reducing poverty in the city is a priority and we know that one of the best ways to support people is to help them save money on their energy bills.

The LECCY is a partnership between Liverpool City Council and Robin Hood Energy, a not for profit energy supplier wholly owned by Nottingham City Council. The aim is to offer people the best energy deals for them. There are no shareholder or director bonuses so all profits are ploughed back into keeping prices low for customers and to supporting energy saving projects locally.

The LECCY offers fair and affordable tariffs, including our prepayment tariff which is one of the most competitive tariffs on the market. At the LECCY we put the customer at the heart of everything we do and our ethos is very much on treating customers fairly. This is continually reflected in the standards and policies we adhere to.
